Note 34 - Fair value measurement

This note explains the company's exposure to financial risks and how these risks could affect the company's future financial performance.

The Company's activities expose it to credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk. The Company's overall risk management program focuses on robust liquidity management as well as monitoring of various relevant market variables, thereby consistently seeking to minimize potential adverse effects on the Company's financial performance. Management has not formed formal risk management policies, however, the risks are monitored by management by analyzing exposures by degree and magnitude of risk on a continued basis. This note explains the sources of risk which the Company is exposed to and how the Company manages the risk and the related impact in the financial statements.

A. Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, investments carried at fair value through profit or loss (FVPL), deposits with banks and financial institutions, trade and other receivables and other financial instruments.

Balances and deposits with bank and financial institutions

Credit risk related to cash and cash equivalents is managed by accepting highly rated banks and diversifying bank deposits and accounts in different banks across the country. Management does not expect any losses from non-performance by these counterparties.

Trade receivables and contract assets

For trade receivables, as a practical expedient, the management compute expected credit loss allowance based on a provision matrix approach. The provision matrix is prepared based on historically observed default rates over the expected life of trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. At each reporting date, the historically observed default rates and changes in the forward-looking estimates are updated, if any. Accordingly, loss allowances on trade receivables are measured using provision matrix at an amount equal to life-time expected losses i.e., expected cash shortfall.

The following table provides information about the exposure to credit risk and expected credit loss for trade receivables and contract assets:

Changes in Loss allowance	4,913
Balance as at the end	15,123

IM

Significant Assumptions :

The loss allowances for financial assets are based on management's assumptions about estimate default rate. For trade receivables, as a practical expedient, the management compute expected credit loss allowance based on a provision matrix approach. The provision matrix is prepared based on estimated default rates over the expected life of trade receivables. Accordingly, loss allowances on trade receivables are measured using provision matrix at an amount equal to life-time expected losses i.e., expected cash shortfall.

Trade receivables and contract assets are written off where there is no reasonable expectation of recovery. Indicators that there is no reasonable expectation of recovery include, amongst others, the failure of a debtor to engage in a repayment plan with the company, and a failure to make contractual payments for a period of greater than XX days past due.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

The company is also exposed to credit risk in relation to equity investments that are measured at fair value through profit or loss. The maximum exposure at the end of the reporting period is the carrying amount of these investments.

Carrying Amount :
As at April 01, 2021	6,19,972
As at March 31, 2022	2,59,359
As at March 31, 2023	10,28,585

B. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the company may not be able to meet its present and future cash and collateral obligations without incurring unacceptable losses. The company's objective is to, at all times maintain optimum levels of liquidity to meet its cash and collateral requirements.

Management monitors rolling forecasts of the company's liquidity position and cash and cash equivalents on the basis of expected cash flows. The Company takes into account the liquidity of the market in which the Company operates. Company's financial liabilities are expected to be settled within twelve months from the date of statement of financial position. Management is confident that it would be able to generate adequate cash flows from operations to pay off liabilities as they fall due. Further, the Company manages its liquidity risk by ensuring that funds are available from its holding company.

(i) Financing arrangements

The Company did not have any borrowings/financing arrangements as at March 31, 2023 (March 31, 2022 : Rs. Nil)

(ii) Maturities of financial liabilities

The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual discounted cash flows. Balances due within 12 months equal their carrying balances as the impact of discounting is not significant.

C. Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk, currency risk and other price risk, such as equity price risk and commodity risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include loans and borrowings, deposits, and debt and equity investments.

(i) Interest rate risk

The Company's investments are primarily in fixed rate interest / dividend bearing instruments. Accordingly there is no significant risk exposure to interest rate risk.

(ii) Foreign currency risk

Currency risk refers to the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. Foreign exchange risk arises from future commercial transactions and recognised assets and liabilities denominated in a currency that is not the company's functional currency (€) at the year end.

The Company has not entered into any foreign currency transactions and is not exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from recognised assets and liabilities denominated in a currency that is not the functional currency of the Company. The Company did not have any foreign currency receivables and payables as at March 31, 2022.

(iii) Price risk

The company's exposure to price risk arises from investments held by the company and classified in the balance sheet either as fair value through profit or loss (mutual funds) and fair value through OCI (unquoted shares). To manage its price risk arising from investments in equity securities, the company has formulated investment policies.
