Year in Retrospect i.e. Financial Year (FY) 2024-25:

India strengthened its position as the world's fastest-growing major economy, with real GDP rising 6.5% to Rs. 187.97 lakh crores and nominal GDP up 9.8%. Growth accelerated to 7.4% in Quarter 4, led by construction (9.4%), public administration/defence (8.9%), and agriculture/primary sector (4.4%). Real Gross Value Added (GVA) rose 6.4%.

Domestic demand was the main driver: Private Final Consumption Expenditure (PFCE) grew 7.2%, reflecting strong consumer confidence, while investment [Gross Fixed Capital Formation (GFCF)] rose 7.1%, touching 9.4% in Q4. Private CAPEX reached a record Rs. 6.56 trillion, offsetting lower public spending during election months.

Inflation eased to a multi-year low of 4.6%, enabling the RBI's first repo rate cut since 2020 (6.5% to 6.25%).

The financial sector showed remarkable strength: Scheduled Commercial Bank Non-Performing Assets (SCB GNPA's) fell to 2.6%, PSB Net NPAs to 0.52%, and banks reported record profits — PSBs earning Rs. 1.78 lakh crore. Credit growth moderated to 10–11%, with unsecured lending curbed by RBI, but MSME lending remained strong.

The corporate bond market grew by 11%, with issuances crossing Rs. 11.3 lakh crores (3,846 issuers). Your company led as a Debenture Trustee, achieving a 25% market share in private placements and securing the ASSOCHAM Debenture Trustee of the Year Award (second year running).

India's securitisation market touched a record Rs. 2.35 lakh crores (+24% YoY). Pass Through Certificates (PTCs) overtook Direct Assignments (DAs), driven by private banks' preference for tradable structures. Vehicle loans dominated, but microfinance, personal loans, and stressed asset securitisations gained ground. RBI's 2025 draft guidelines for securitisation of stressed assets were a landmark step. Your company leveraged tech investments to expand its securitisation services significantly.

Your Company strengthened branch offices (Chennai, Kolkata, Bengaluru), expanded Will Writing & Private Trust services, improved client interfaces, and maintained full CSR compliance.

Outlook for the Current Year FY 2025-26:

India remains the fastest-growing G20 economy, with the RBI projecting 6.5% growth aided by lower inflation, robust consumption, and ongoing infrastructure push. Global headwinds include geopolitical tensions and protectionism, but India's buffers — healthy banks, corporate balance sheets, and double-digit credit growth — remain strong.

The corporate bond market is expected to cross Rs. 12 lakh crores in issuances, with total outstanding at Rs. 53.6 trillion ($640bn). Monetary easing and FPIs entering after FTSE Emerging Markets Government Bond Index (EMGBI) inclusion (September, 2025) will deepen the market. Institutional investors (mutual funds, insurers, FPIs) are increasing their share, while retail participation is set to expand through fractional platforms. GIFT City reforms further strengthen India's global positioning.

Your company's strategy:

- In light of the growing importance of the Indian bond market, your company is well-positioned to capitalize on these opportunities. Our strategic focus for the upcoming year is to facilitate increased debt resource mobilization for Indian corporations. As a pioneer in Trusteeship industry your company serviced the first ESG bond issued by L&T in June, 2025.
- We will also expand our presence in other high-potential business segments, including Security Trustee, Alternative Investment Funds (AIFs), Will writing cum Private Trust formation as a tool for estate planning and specialized instruments like InvITs/REITs and Municipal Bonds.
- Your company will explore opportunities of synergy with Banks/FI in propagating the will writing cum formation of private trust as well as explore inorganic growth opportunities in acquiring an erstwhile Trustee company engaged in such activity.
- Following up on successful participation as Trustee of first RMBS –PTC issuance made by NHB your company will like to play the leading role in this nascent yet growing segment.
- To navigate the evolving regulatory landscape and ensure sustained growth your company will continue to strengthen its internal capabilities. This includes reinforcing our legal and compliance teams and implementing a focused, product-wise and zone-wise approach to serve our clients more effectively and stay at the forefront of the fiduciary trusteeship industry.

Independent Auditor's Report

To
The Members of IDBI Trusteeship Services Limited
Report on the audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of IDBI Trusteeship Services Limited (the "Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2025, the Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Statement of Changes in Equity and the Statement of Cash Flows for the year ended on that date and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as the "Financial Statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid Financial Statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act, ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2025 and its profit, total comprehensive income, changes in equity and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the Financial Statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing ("SA"s) specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the Financial Statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Financial Statements.

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report but does not include the Financial Statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the Financial Statements does not cover the Board report and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Financial Statements, our responsibility is to read the Board report and, in doing so, consider whether the Board report is materially inconsistent with the Financial Statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this Board report, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these Financial Statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, including other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including Ind AS specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the Financial Statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the Financial Statements, management and Board of Directors is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Company's Board of Directors is also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Financial Statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Financial Statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(I) of the companies Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to Financial Statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the Financial Statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the Financial Statements, including the disclosures, and whether the Financial Statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the Financial Statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the Financial Statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the Financial Statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal financial controls that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the Financial Statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

Order, 2020 ("the Order"), Issued by the Central Government of India in terms of sub-section (11) of section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013, we give in the "Annexure A" a statement on the matters specified in paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Order, to the extent applicable.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control with reference to Financial Statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control with reference to Financial Statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to Financial Statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to Financial Statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls with reference to Financial Statements and such internal financial controls with reference to Financial Statements were operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the criteria for internal financial control with reference to Financial Statements established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the ICAI.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This note provides a list of the significant accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated. All figures mentioned in the financial statements, including cash flow, notes to accounts and significant accounting policies are in 000's denomination of Indian Rupee, unless specified otherwise.

A. Basis of Preparation

(i) Compliance with Ind AS

These financial statements comply in all material aspects with the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the Act) as amended by the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2016] and other relevant provisions of the Act.

The Company's financial statements up to and for the year ended 31 March 2025 were prepared in accordance with the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006, (as amended) notified under Section 133 of the Act and other relevant provisions of the act.

The Company has adopted Ind AS from April 1, 2022 with effective transition date of April 1, 2021 and accordingly, these financial statements together with the comparative reporting period have been prepared in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles as laid down in Ind AS, prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('the Act') read with relevant rules issued thereunder and other relevant provisions of the Act. The transition to Ind AS has been carried out from the erstwhile Accounting Standards notified under the Act read with Rule 7 of Companies (Accounts) Rules 2014 (as amended), and other generally accepted accounting principles in India (collectively referred to as 'the Previous GAAP'). Accordingly, the impact of transition has been recorded in the opening reserves as at April 1, 2021 and the comparative previous year has been restated / reclassified.

The financial statements have been prepared on accrual and going concern basis. The accounting policies are applied consistently to all the financial years presented in the financial statements, including the preparation of the opening Ind AS Balance Sheet as at April 1, 2021 being the 'date of transition to Ind AS'.

(ii) Basis of measurement

The financial statements have been prepared on historical cost convention on accrual basis except for the following:

- certain financial assets and liabilities that is measured at fair value;
- defined benefit plans- plan assets measured at fair value;

(iii) Functional and presentational currency

The financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees (INR) which is also the Company's functional currency. All the amounts are rounded to the nearest thousands with two decimals, except when otherwise indicated.

Use of estimates and judgements:

The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the accounting disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in future periods.

In the process of applying the Company's accounting policies, management has made the following judgements, which have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the Company's financial statements:

- (a) estimation of current tax payable and current tax expense in relation to uncertain tax positions;
- (b) estimation uncertainties and judgements made in relation to lease accounting (i.e. determining whether the arrangement contains a lease, lease term, incremental borrowing rate and lease classification where the Company is a lessor);
- (c) estimated useful life of intangible asset;
- (d) estimation of defined benefit pension obligation;
- (e) recognition of revenue
- (f) recognition of deferred tax asset for carried-forward tax losses;
- (g) impairment of financial assets
- (h) estimated fair value of unlisted equity shares.

B. Significant Accounting policies

(a) Current versus non- current classification

The Company classifies an asset as current when:

- (a) it expects to realise the asset, or intends to sell or consume it, in its normal operating cycle
- (b) it holds the asset primarily for the purpose of trading
- (c) it expects to realise the asset within twelve months after the reporting period or
- (d) the asset is cash or a cash equivalent (as defined in Ind AS 7, Statement of Cash Flows) unless the asset is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

The company classifies the liability as current when:

- (a) it expects to settle the liability in its normal operating cycle
- (b) it holds the liability primarily for the purpose of trading
- (c) the liability is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period or
- (d) it does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

All other liabilities are classified as non-current

The company has ascertained 12 months as its operating cycle for classification of current and non-current assets and liabilities.

(b) Foreign currency translation:

- (i) Functional and presentation currency

The financial statements are presented in Indian rupee (INR), which is company's functional and presentation currency.

- (ii) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at year end exchange rates are generally recognised in profit or loss.

(c) Revenue recognition

i) Revenue from services

The Company provides various Trusteeship services such as Debenture Trustee, Security Trustee, Securitization Trustee, Special Services, Bond Trustee, Alternative investment Fund, Monitoring, Commercial Paper, Document Management Services, Formation and preparation of legal documents, Enforcement Services, Escrow Agent, Facility Agent, Locker Rent, Masala Bond Trustee, P2P, Safe Keeper, Venture Capital Fund etc.

Company receives consideration in the form of acceptance fees and/or service charges. Service charges are further bifurcated into; one time service charges (for entire contract period in advance), pre-service charges (annually in advance) and post service charges (annually/half-yearly/quarterly at the end of the period).

Revenue is recognized upon transfer of control of promised services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration which the Company expects to receive in exchange for those services. The Company recognizes revenue in the period in which it satisfies its performance obligation by transferring promised services to the customer. The sources of revenue and Company's accounting policy are as follows:

- Revenue from trusteeship services; non-refundable initial acceptance fees and/or one time service charges are aggregated with the annual services fees as the underlying services are considered a single performance obligation and recognized over time on a straight line basis over the period to which they relate i.e. the contract term. Similarly, revenue from Safe locker services is also recognised over time on a straight line basis over the period to which it relate i.e. the contract term.
- Revenue from enforcement services and formation and preparation of legal documentation are recognized at a point in time, when relevant performance obligations are satisfied.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for price concessions or discounts, if any, as specified in the contract with the customer and also excludes any taxes (GST) and duties collected from customers on behalf of the government.

If consideration is collected upfront before the services are provided, a contract liability is recognized when the payment is made or due (whichever is earlier). Contract liabilities are recognized as revenue when the performance obligation for relevant service is satisfied.

If the services rendered by the Company exceed the payment, a contract asset is recognised. Upon completion of the services, the amount recognised as contract assets is reclassified to trade receivables.

The Company receives one-time acceptance fees and/or one time service charges in advance from customers and the underlying services are provided over the contract term which generally exceeds one year. There is a significant financing component for these contracts considering the length of time between the receipt of payment from customer and provision of services. Accordingly, the transaction price for these contracts is discounted, using an interest rate commensurate with the rate that would be reflected in a separate financing transaction between the Company and the customer at contract inception. The Company applies the practical expedient and does not adjust the promised consideration for the effects of a significant financing component if the period between the transfer of the promised service and the payment is one year or less.

Contracts are subject to modification to account for changes in contract tenure, amounts or other customer requirements. The Company reviews modification to the contract in conjunction with the original contract, basis which the transaction price could be allocated to a new performance obligation, or transaction price of an existing obligation could undergo a change.

The changes if any are accounted as below

- 1) Where the additional services are a series of distinct services and the price charged represents standalone selling prices, the modifications are accounted as a separate contract.
- 2) Where the additional services are distinct, however the price charged is not a standalone selling price for distinct services, the revenue is recognized prospectively. This type of contract modification is treated as the termination of the original contract and the creation of a new contract.

The amount of consideration allocated to the remaining performance obligations (after the modification) is the sum of any consideration initially included in the transaction price of the contract before modification, and that had not been recognized as revenue, and the consideration promised as part of the modification.

The Company has contracts with customers to provide services related to formation and preparation of legal documentation. To provide these services, the Company empanels Legal counsels by signing the consent letter. The Company charges a fixed fee and retains certain portion of the total fees received from the customer and remits the balance amount to the Legal counsel. The primary responsibility for the service meeting customer specification rest with the Legal counsel, the Company does not establish the price and is not exposed to the credit risk. The Company is acting as an agent and recognises revenue at the net amount that is retained by the Company under the arrangement. In this case, the net revenue is recognised at a point in time i.e., at the time of completion of the services.

ii) Effective Interest Rate:

The effective interest rate used for calculating amortization under effective interest method discounts contractual cash flow through the contractual life of the instrument. The effective interest rate considered for contractual obligations is 7.10%

iii) Interest Income

Interest income from financial assets at fair value through profit or loss is disclosed as interest income within other income. Interest income on financial assets at amortized cost and financial assets at FVOCI is calculated using the effective interest method, except if such assets are held for original maturity upto 1 year, that is recognized in the statement of profit and loss as part of other income. Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset except for financial assets that subsequently become credit-impaired. For credit-impaired financial assets the effective interest rate is applied to the net carrying amount of the financial asset (after deduction of the loss allowance).

iv) Dividend Income

Dividends are received from financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and at FVOCI. Dividends are recognized as other income in profit or loss when the right to receive payment is established.

v) Bad Debt

Assignments are to be classified as irregular assignments if any outstanding dues of earlier two financial years are not recovered and are written off as bad debt in the year of such determination or confirmation from lenders, whichever is earlier. Income in respect of such irregular assignments is accounted for in the year of receipt. An amount of INR Nil (Previous Year INR 415,000 (absolute amount) recovered from irregular assignments has been recognized as income.

(d) Property and equipment

Freehold land is carried at historical cost. All other items of property and equipment are stated at historical cost less depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognized as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognized when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

Transition to Ind AS

On transition to Ind AS, the Company has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of its property and equipment measured as per the previous GAAP and use that carrying value as the deemed cost of the property, plant and equipment

Depreciation methods, estimated useful lives and residual value:

Depreciation is calculated using the written-down value method to allocate the cost of the assets, net of their residual values, over their estimated useful lives as follows:

Asset Class	Expected Life
Motor Car	8 Years
Building	60 Years
Computer Hardware	3 Years
Air Conditioners	15 Years
Furniture & Fixtures	10 Years
Office Equipment	5 Years

Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the shorter of their useful life or the lease term, unless the Company expects to use the assets beyond the lease term.

The useful lives have been determined based on technical evaluation done by the management's expert which are higher than those specified by Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013, in order to reflect the actual usage of the assets. The residual values are not more than 5% of the original cost of the asset.

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period. An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amounts. These are included in profit or loss within other income.

(e) Intangible assets

Computer software acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Costs associated with maintaining software programs are recognized as an expense as incurred. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses.

The Company amortizes Computer software using the written-down value method over 3-10 years. The amortization period and the amortization method are reviewed at least at the end of each reporting period. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are considered to modify the amortization period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting estimates. The amortization expense on intangible assets with finite lives is recognized in the statement of profit or loss in the expense category.

Transition to Ind AS

On transition to Ind AS, the Company has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of intangible assets measured as per the previous GAAP and use that carrying value as the deemed cost of intangible assets.

(f) Taxation

i) Current Taxes

The income tax expense or credit for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate for each jurisdiction adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the applicable tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period.

Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation and considers whether it is probable that a taxation authority will accept an uncertain tax treatment. The Company measures its tax balances either based on the most likely amount or the expected value, depending on which method provides a better prediction of the resolution of the uncertainty.

ii) Deferred Taxes

Deferred income tax is provided in full, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realized or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilize those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset where there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and where the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the Company has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Current and deferred tax is recognized in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

(g) Impairment of non-financial assets

Non-financial assets are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash inflows which are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets other than goodwill that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at the end of each reporting period.

(h) Fair Value measurement

The Company measures financial instruments at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to settle a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique.

In estimating the fair value of an asset or liability, the Company takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.
- Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

(i) Investments and other financial assets

(I) Classification

The Company classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories:

Amortised Cost; or

- Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVTOCI) – debt investment; or
- Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVTOCI) – Equity investment; or
- Fair Value through Profit & Loss (FVTPL).

The classification depends on the Company's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows

For assets measured at fair value, gains and losses will either be recorded in profit or loss or other comprehensive income. For investments in equity instruments that are not held for trading, this will depend on whether the Company has made an irrevocable election at the time of initial recognition to account for the equity investment at FVOCI. The company reclassifies investments when and only when its business model for managing those assets changes except investment in equity through OCI.

(ii) Recognition

Regular way purchases and sales of financial assets are recognized on trade-date, being the date on which the Company commits to purchase or sale the financial asset.

(iii) Measurement

At initial recognition, the Company measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed in profit or loss.

Debt instruments

Subsequent measurement of debt instruments depends on the Company's business model for managing the asset and the cash flow characteristics of the asset. There are three measurement categories into which the Company classifies its debt instruments:

- Amortised cost

Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortised cost. Interest income from these financial assets is included in Other Income using the effective interest rate method except when such assets are held for upto 1 year of original maturity. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition is recognised directly in profit or loss and presented in other income. Impairment losses are presented as separate line items in the statement of profit and loss.

- Fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)

Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows and for selling the financial assets, where the assets' cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest, are measured at FVOCI. Movements in the carrying amount are taken through OCI, except for the recognition of impairment gains or losses, interest income and foreign exchange gains and losses which are recognized in profit and loss. When the financial asset is derecognized, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in OCI is reclassified from equity to profit or loss and recognized in other income. Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income using the effective interest rate method. Foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in other income and impairment expenses are presented as separate line items in statements of profit and loss.

- Fair value through profit or loss

Assets that do not meet the criteria for amortized cost or FVOCI are measured at fair value through profit or loss. A gain or loss on a debt investment that is subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss is recognized in profit or loss and presented net within other income in the period in which it arises. Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income.

Equity investments

The Company subsequently measures all equity investments at fair value. Where the Company's management has elected to present fair value gains and losses on equity investments in other comprehensive income, there is no subsequent reclassification of fair value gains and losses to profit or loss following the derecognition of the investment. Dividends from such investments are recognized in profit or loss as other income when the Company's right to receive payments is established.

Changes in the fair value of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognized in other income in the statement of profit and loss. Impairment losses (and reversal of impairment losses) on equity investments measured at FVOCI are not reported separately from other changes in fair value.

(iv) Impairment of financial assets

The Company assesses on a forward-looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its assets carried at amortised cost and FVOCI debt instruments. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk.

For trade receivables, as a practical expedient, the management computes expected credit loss allowance based on a provision matrix approach. The provision matrix is prepared based on estimated default rates over the expected life of trade receivables. Accordingly, loss allowances on trade receivables are measured using provision matrix at an amount equal to life-time expected losses i.e., expected cash shortfall.

(v) Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset is derecognized only when

- the Company has transferred the rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset or
- retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset, but assumes a contractual obligation to pay the cash flows to one or more recipients.

Where the Company has transferred an asset, the Company evaluates whether it has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset. In such cases, the financial asset is derecognized. Where the Company has not transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the financial asset is not derecognized.

Where the Company has neither transferred a financial asset nor retains substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the financial asset is derecognized if the Company has not retained control of the financial asset. Where the Company retains control of the financial asset, the asset is continued to be recognized to the extent of continuing involvement in the financial asset.

(j) Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

(k) Leases

The Company evaluates if an arrangement qualifies to be a lease as per the requirements of Ind AS 116. Identification of lease requires significant judgement. The Company uses significant judgement in assessing the lease term and the applicable discount rate.

The Company determines the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease, together with both periods covered by an option to extend the lease if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and period covered by an option to terminate the lease, if the Company is reasonably certain not to exercise that option. In assessing whether the Company is reasonably certain to exercise an option to extend a lease, or not to exercise an option to terminate a lease, it considers all relevant facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive for the Company to exercise the option to extend the lease, or not to exercise the option to terminate the lease. The Company revises the lease term if there is a change in the non-cancellable period of a lease.

As a lessee

Assets and liabilities arising from a lease are initially measured on a present value basis. Lease liabilities include the net present value of the following lease payments:

- fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments), less any lease incentives receivable
- variable lease payment that are based on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at the commencement date
- amounts expected to be payable by the Company under residual value guarantees
- the exercise price of a purchase option if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise that option, and
- payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the Company exercising that option.

Lease payments to be made under reasonably certain extension options are also included in the measurement of the liability. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the lessee's incremental borrowing rate is used, being the rate that the individual lessee would have to pay to borrow the funds necessary to obtain an asset of similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment with similar terms, security and conditions.

To determine the incremental borrowing rate, the Company:

- where possible, uses recent third-party financing received by the individual lessee as a starting point, adjusted to reflect changes in financing conditions since third party financing was received
- uses a build-up approach that starts with a risk-free interest rate adjusted for credit risk for leases held by the Company, which does not have recent third party financing
- makes adjustments specific to the lease, e.g. term, country, currency and security.

If a readily observable amortising loan rate is available to the individual lessee (through recent financing or market data) which has a similar payment profile to the lease, then the Company uses that rate as a starting point to determine the incremental borrowing rate.

Lease payments are allocated between principal and finance costs. The finance cost is charged to profit or loss over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period.

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost comprising the following:

- the amount of the initial measurement of lease liability
- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received
- any initial direct costs
- restoration costs.

Right-of-use assets are generally depreciated over the shorter of the asset's useful life and the lease term on a straight-line basis.

Payments associated with short-term leases and the low-value assets are recognised on a straight-line basis as an expense in profit or loss. Short-term leases are leases with a lease term of 12 months or less. The Company does not have any leases of low-value assets.

Contracts may contain both lease and non-lease components. The Company has elected not to separate the lease and non-lease components and instead account for them as a single component.

Transition to Ind-AS

On transition to Ind AS the Company has;

- elected to apply the new definition of a lease to all of their contracts.
- chosen to adopt the new standard retrospectively in accordance with IAS 8 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors. The Company applies the new standard to all leases in which it is a lessee.

As a lessor

Lease is classified either as an operating lease or a finance lease. A lease is classified as a finance lease if it transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an underlying asset. A lease is classified as an operating lease if it does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an underlying asset.

Whether a lease is a finance lease or an operating lease depends on the substance of the transaction rather than the form of the contract. Examples of situations that individually or in combination would normally lead to a lease being classified as a finance lease are:

- (a) the lease transfers ownership of the underlying asset to the lessee by the end of the lease term;
- (b) the lessee has the option to purchase the underlying asset at a price that is expected to be sufficiently lower than the fair value at the date the option becomes exercisable for it to be reasonably certain, at the inception date, that the option will be exercised;
- (c) the lease term is for the major part of the economic life of the underlying asset even if title is not transferred;
- (d) at the inception date, the present value of the lease payments amounts to at least substantially all of the fair value of the underlying asset; and
- (e) the underlying asset is of such a specialised nature that only the lessee can use it without major modifications.

While there is no finance lease transaction entered into by the Company, the Company has entered into operating leases where the lease payments from operating leases are recognized as an income on a straight-line basis. Initial direct costs incurred in obtaining an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the underlying asset and recognised as expense over the lease term on the same basis as lease income. The respective leased assets are included in the balance sheet based on their nature.

(l) Investment properties

Property that is held for long-term rental yields or for capital appreciation or both, and that is not occupied by the Company, is classified as investment property. Investment property is measured initially at its cost, including related transaction costs and, where applicable borrowing costs. Subsequent expenditure is capitalized to the asset's carrying amount only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance costs are expensed when incurred. When part of an investment property is replaced, the carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognized.

Investment properties are depreciated using the written-down value method over their estimated useful lives. Investment properties generally have a useful life of 60 years. The useful life has been determined based on technical evaluation performed by the management's expert.

Transition to Ind AS

On transition to Ind AS, the Company has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of its investment properties measured as per the previous GAAP and use that carrying value as the deemed cost of investment properties.

(m) Cash and cash equivalents

For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, deposits held at call with financial institutions, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts, if any, are shown within borrowings in current liabilities in the balance sheet.

(n) Trade receivables

Trade receivables are amounts due from customers for goods sold or services performed in the ordinary course of business. Trade receivables are recognised initially at the amount of consideration that is unconditional unless they contain significant financing components, when they are recognised at fair value. The Company holds the trade receivables with the objective of collecting the contractual cash flows and therefore measures them subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less loss allowance.

(o) Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for services provided to the Company prior to the end of the financial year which are unpaid. The amounts are unsecured and are usually paid within a short period not exceeding twelve months from the date of recognition. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

(p) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount can be reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses. Provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period. The discount rate used to determine the present value is a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as interest expense.

(q) Employee benefits

(i) Short-term obligations:

Liabilities for salaries, including non-monetary benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are recognised in respect of employees' services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. The liabilities are presented as current employee benefit obligations in the balance sheet.

(ii) Other long-term employee benefit obligations:

The Company may have liabilities for earned leave that are not expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service. These obligations are therefore measured as the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the end of the reporting period using the projected unit credit method. The benefits are discounted using the appropriate market yields at the end of the reporting period that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation. Remeasurements as a result of experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in profit or loss.

The obligations are presented as current liabilities in the balance sheet if the Company does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting period, regardless of when the actual settlement is expected to occur.

(iii) Post-employment obligations:

The Company operates the following post-employment schemes:

- a. Defined benefit plans such as gratuity
- b. Defined contribution plans such as provident fund.

Gratuity obligations

The liability or asset recognised in the balance sheet in respect of defined benefit gratuity plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by actuaries using the projected unit credit method.

The present value of the defined benefit obligation denominated in INR is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation.

The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expenses in the statement of profit and loss.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income. They are included in retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity and in the balance sheet.

Changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation resulting from plan amendments or curtailments are recognised immediately in profit or loss as past service cost.

Defined contribution plans

The Company pays provident fund contributions to publicly administered provident funds as per local regulations. The Company has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are accounted for as defined contribution plans and the contributions are recognised as employee benefit expenses when they are incurred. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent that a cash refund or a reduction in the future payments is available.

A description of methods used for sensitivity analysis and its Limitations:

Sensitivity analysis is performed by varying a single parameter while keeping all the other parameters unchanged.

Sensitivity analysis fails to focus on the interrelationship between underlying parameters. Hence, the results may vary if two or more variables are changed simultaneously.

The method used does not indicate anything about the likelihood of change in any parameter and the extent of the change if any.

Nature and purpose of reserves

General Reserve:

General Reserve is used from time to time to transfer profits from Retained Earnings for appropriation purposes. As the General Reserve is created by a transfer from one component of equity to another and is not an item of other comprehensive income, items included in the General Reserve will not be reclassified subsequently to statement of profit and loss. General Reserves includes balance transferred from Retained Earnings.

Retained Earnings :

Retained earnings are the profits that a company has earned to date.

Note 29 : Fair value measurement

This note explains the company's exposure to financial risks and how these risks could affect the company's future financial performance.

The Company's activities expose it to credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk. The Company's overall risk management program focuses on robust liquidity management as well as monitoring of various relevant market variables, thereby consistently seeking to minimize potential adverse effects on the Company's financial performance. Management has not formed formal risk management policies, however, the risks are monitored by management by analyzing exposures by degree and magnitude of risk on a continued basis. This note explains the sources of risk which the Company is exposed to and how the Company manages the risk and the related impact in the financial statements.

A. Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, investments carried at fair value through profit or loss (FVPL), deposits with banks and financial institutions, trade and other receivables and other financial instruments.

Balances and deposits with bank and financial institutions

Credit risk related to cash and cash equivalents is managed by accepting highly rated banks and diversifying bank deposits and accounts in different banks across the country. Management does not expect any losses from non-performance by these counter parties.

Trade receivables and contract assets

For trade receivables, as a practical expedient, the management compute expected credit loss allowance based on a provision matrix approach. The provision matrix is prepared based on historically observed default rates over the expected life of trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. At each reporting date, the historically observed default rates and changes in the forward-looking estimates are updated, if any. Accordingly, loss allowances on trade receivables are measured using provision matrix at an amount equal to life-time expected losses i.e., expected cash shortfall.

The following table provides information about the exposure to credit risk and expected credit loss for trade receivables and contract assets:

As at March 31, 2025

The loss allowances for trade receivables and contract assets as at 31 March, 2024 reconcile to the opening loss allowances as follows:

Particulars

	As at March 31, 2025
Loss allowance at the beginning	24,541
Changes in Loss allowance	8,691
Balance as at the end	33,232

Significant Assumptions :

The loss allowances for financial assets are based on management's assumptions about estimate default rate. For trade receivables, as a practical expedient, the management compute expected credit loss allowance based on a provision matrix approach. The provision matrix is prepared based on estimated default rates over the expected life of trade receivables. Accordingly, loss allowances on trade receivables are measured using provision matrix at an amount equal to life-time expected losses i.e., expected cash shortfall.

Trade receivables and contract assets are written off where there is no reasonable expectation of recovery. Indicators that there is no reasonable expectation of recovery include, amongst others, the failure of a debtor to engage in a repayment plan with the company, and a failure to make contractual payments for a period of greater than XXX days past due.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

The company is also exposed to credit risk in relation to equity investments that are measured at fair value through profit or loss. The maximum exposure at the end of the reporting period is the carrying amount of these investments.

Carrying Amount :

As at March 31, 2024 10,39,281

As at March 31, 2025 12,92,179

B. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the company may not be able to meet its present and future cash and collateral obligations without incurring unacceptable losses. The company's objective is to, at all times maintain optimum levels of liquidity to meet its cash and collateral requirements.

Management monitors rolling forecasts of the company's liquidity position and cash and cash equivalents on the basis of expected cash flows. The Company takes into account the liquidity of the market in which the Company operates. Company's financial liabilities are expected to be settled within twelve months from the date of statement of financial position. Management is confident that it would be able to generate adequate cash flows from operations to pay off liabilities as they fall due. Further, the Company manages its liquidity risk by ensuring that funds are available from its holding company.

(i) Financing arrangements

The Company did not have any borrowings/financing arrangements as at March 31, 2025 (March 31, 2024 : Rs. Nil)

(ii) Maturities of financial liabilities

The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual discounted cash flows. Balances due within 12 months equal their carrying balances as the impact of discounting is not significant.

C. Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Financial instruments affected by market risk include loans and borrowings, deposits, and debt and equity investments.

Foreign exchange risk arises from future commercial transactions and recognised assets and liabilities denominated in a currency that is not the company's functional currency (£) at the year end.

The Company has not entered into any foreign currency transactions and is not exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from recognised assets and liabilities denominated in a currency that is not the functional currency of the Company. The Company did not have any foreign currency receivables and payables as at March 31, 2025.

(iii) Price risk

The company's exposure to price risk arises from investments held by the company and classified in the balance sheet either as fair value through profit or loss (mutual funds) and fair value through OCI (unquoted shares). In accordance with the requirements of Ind AS 8 – Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors, the comparative figures for the financial year 2023–24 have been restated. The details of the adjustments made are as follows:

- Expected Credit Loss Provisions: During the financial year 2023–24, provision for bad debts of Rs. 2.47 crores was recorded by debiting provision for bad debts (Liability nature) and crediting provision for bad debts (Expense nature), rather than debiting provision for bad debts (Expense) and crediting provision for bad debts (Liability). Leading to under statement of provision for bad debts (Liability) and under statement of provision for bad debts (Expense). The total impact of the correction in FY 2023–24 amounts to Rs. 4.95 crores charged to profit and loss account.
- Investment Property Income: In previous financial year of 2023–24, property rent income of Rs. 0.03 crores was booked less as income. Corrections were made by restating the property rent income by crediting Property rent Income and debiting Unearned Rental Income.
- Lease Liability: Lease liability was excess booked for Rs. 0.14 crores relating to leasehold property for the financial year 2022–23, same has been reduced as part of the restatement by crediting finance cost and debiting Lease liability
- Deferred Tax: Deferred tax account was debited and deferred tax liability was credited by Rs. 1.10 Cr in excess in FY 2023–24, leading to overstatement of deferred tax and deferred tax liability. The same is restated by crediting deferred tax and debiting deferred tax liability.
